In Court - A man charged in connection with a hit-and-run that killed a University of Calgary student is now accused of violating bail conditions.

Police charged Colin Jones, 48, on Saturday with one count of breach of undertaking.

Jones is also charged with hit and run in connection with the the death of Lindsay Giacomelli, 20, who was critically injured while crossing Bonaventure Drive S.E. on March 17, 2005.

Police did not say Sunday which condition Jones allegedly violated.
